What did you notice?

Japan Coast Guard members rescue a dog that survived the Japanese tsunami and three weeks at sea!

Let's infer together...

- Researchers dressed in panda costumes put a panda cub into a basket before transferring it to a new living environment at the Hetaoping Research and Conservation Center.
- The panda costumes are part of a new plan to reintroduce captive giant pandas back into the wild.

Mammals keeper Kylie
baby spotted-tail quoll.

- A dog left inside the house for the day has fun playing with toys and lies exhausted after his efforts.
